

I absolutely oppose any weakening of Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. It is my right to refuse unwanted solicitation over telephone service. Indiana is correct in its position of zealously guarding the privacy of those citizens who do not want to be contacted in their homes, on their time, by businesses seeking additional sales. This is a voluntary registry by which I am able to select to refuse solicitation without the disruption of constant phone calls through the evening. I pay for telephone service for my convenience in contacting those that I choose to contact and for those that I choose to allow to contact me.
